DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. This action is in response to the application filed on 18 September 2001.
2. Claims 1-102 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-102 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
5. Taken as a whole and as written, the pending claims before the Examiner recite an excessive multiplicity of claims by virtue of the unreasonable number of claims presented, and therefore tend to obfuscate, confuse, and becloud the claimed invention. Because the Examiner believes that in his judgment that twenty-five (25) claims are sufficient to properly define applicants' invention, applicants are required to select particular claims, not to exceed twenty-five, for examination on the merits. See M.P.E.P. 2173.05(n). To be complete, the non-selected claims must also be cancelled, or the applicant(s) must present appropriate arguments as to why the above rejection is in error. It is of consequence and relevance to note that most patents have less than twenty claims, while patents in excess of 100 claims comprise less than 0.35% of all applications filed (See Federal Register: October 5, 1998 (Volume 63, Number 192, Page 53507)). It is further noted that it would appear that a multiplicity of inventions also appear to be involved. Consequently, the applicants are requested to group their selection to read only on a single invention. The applicant should group the claims according to what he believes to be the intended and distinct invention, which may be subject to a restriction in a subsequent action.

Applicants are being afforded the courtesy of a written response due to the complexity of the case.
